

APPEL DE DOSSIER REMIX

DEADLINE: JANUARY 30th, 2016

Re-interpreting, remixing or covering are rhetorical conventions in some performing art forms such as music or theatre where the same raw material can be radically re-shaped by a new director, musician or conductor. What happens if we apply the same principle to dance? Studio 303's upcoming presentation will feature two original pieces, followed by remixed versions.

The 2016 edition features two original pieces, followed by new version remixed by invited guest artists Katie Ward and Pramila Vasudevan.

Want to see your piece in a brand-new light? Studio 303 is looking for choreographers interested in having their work remixed by Pramila Vasudevan (Minneapolis) or Katie Ward (Montreal). Take advantage of this opportunity to have mid-career artists reinterpret your work through their lens.

Katie Ward lives and works in Montreal. In 2014, she presented her new ensemble work – Infinity Doughnut in St John's Nfld, in Montreal, in Nottingham, and at Centennial Theatre in Lennoxville. In 2014, she also presented her brand new 40 minute-solo – Reality – at Casa Del Popolo in Montreal; at Fluid festival in Calgary and at Kinetic studio in Halifax. Her last creation, Rock Steady, was created and performed in Montreal, in France and in the UK.
katieward.org

'I collect ways of accessing different senses available to the performer and audience. I hope to foster a quality of open focus with sensitivity towards fluctuations.'

Practical details:

- Performances will be held at Studio 303 on Saturday, April 18th 2016, at 8pm and Sunday, April 19th 2016, at 4pm.
- Original works and their remixes should last about 12 minutes each. Each evening will close with a public discussion.
- Studio 303 will provide 20 studio hours per project.
- To the project proposal, you will receive an honorarium of $1,150 including residency and performance.
- Only selected artists will be contacted.

To submit your projet, please fill-in the application form
All info: www.studio303.ca/calls-for-submissions/