Contact person for policy implementation: Direction and Board of Directors of Studio 303

Schedule for updates: Every four years, synchronized with operational funding cycles

Last update: January 2024

Scope: This policy applies to employees, administrators, interns, freelancers (including teachers and artists), and volunteers of Studio 303, regardless of their status.

Introduction

This accessibility and inclusion policy complements our Guide and internal accessibility procedures, as well as Studio 303's harassment and discrimination prevention policy. Its objective is to ensure a safer, inclusive, representative, welcoming, and beneficial environment for all our users, regardless of their status, identity, abilities, etc.

This policy is rooted in our feminist, queer, anti-oppressive, and anti-racist values and our understanding of the intersection of oppressions, where multiple systems of oppression intersect (racism, sexism, hetero- and cis-normativity, ableism, etc.). As a service and training organization, we acknowledge the importance of creating learning spaces for all our users, spaces in which there is a dismantling of both biases and normalized notions of bodies and capacities.

In order to support artists from under-represented communities, Studio 303 has strengthened its efforts to improve the accessibility of its services since 2019. In 2021, a consultation project was conducted by Maxime D.-Pomerleau (artist, cultural worker, and consultant for 303). These are some of the findings from this consultation that guide our accessibility and inclusion efforts:

Multiple Needs

The needs of our clientele are as diverse as the people we welcome. It is important to be informed about these realities to avoid placing the entire burden of awareness on affected artists.

We are aware that respective needs may sometimes be complementary, and sometimes appear in opposition when they occur in the same place or during the same activity. We acknowledge our responsibility as an institution to understand this constellation of situations and needs; we aim to be flexible, but also realistic about our capacity to respond, with an ethic of equity rather than individual accommodation.

Communications

Artists must have all the information to make informed choices about their participation in an activity. Our role is to facilitate access to this information.

Spirit of Community

One aspect highlighted in the consultation is the lack of spaces for Deaf and disabled artist communities. Their desire to meet other artists and exchange with peers on topics related to contemporary creation is evident.

Axes

The accessibility and inclusion measures at Studio 303 aim to create an environment where all individuals, regardless of their identity, can benefit from our services.

In this perspective, this policy presents our objectives and actions in three main axes:

- Physical Accessibility of Spaces
- Financial Accessibility of Activities
- Transversal: a welcoming, inclusive, and equitable living and creative environment

Finally, we have implemented an action plan, guides, and internal procedures, and we will continue our self-training process on accessibility issues as a team. It will be a continuous learning process, allowing room for improvement, feedback, and inevitably, mistakes.

Physical Accessibility of Spaces

Objectives

- Ensure that the office and studio are accessible, welcoming, and safe for all users.
- Ensure that the programming, in its choices and operations, is transparent to Studio 303 users to best guarantee accessibility.

Actions

- ⇒ Assess the accessibility of spaces beyond our control (odours, temperature, building entrance, elevators, toilets, etc.) and communicate deficiencies to the owner;
- ⇒ Undertake renovations under our control in the studio to meet certain physical accessibility criteria (door handle changes, water fountain, lighting, ventilation, sound level, etc.);
- ⇒ Transparently communicate the accessibility of our spaces and services:
 - Indicate the (in)accessibility of activities and spaces in the programming;
 - Add an entire section dedicated to accessibility on our website and ensure its update;
 - Add LSQ and ASL videos for targeted workshops to enhance accessibility and certain pages of the website;
 - Communicate the accessibility process to the Studio 303 community;
- ⇒ Display clear physical signage to indicate accessibility tools;
- ⇒ Hold no events in locations that are not universally accessible;
- ⇒ Welcome support animals in our spaces and during various activities.

Financial Accessibility of Activities and Services

Objectives

- Work towards making our organization equitable (in the realms of both financial and opportunity).
- Accommodate maximum financial accessibility requests.

Actions

- ⇒ Offer affordable services (subsidized workshops, pricing scale for events, etc.);
- ⇒ Adhere to the Pay Equity Policy for employees and contractors;
- ⇒ Provide workshop grants for BIPOC, trans individuals, Deaf, and disabled individuals;
- ⇒ Provide financial and logistical assistance for travel for artists with specific needs;
- ⇒ Offer additional funds (fee bonuses) to current-year Studio 303 resident artists if needed;
- ⇒ Provide free daycare services for all our events.

Welcoming, Inclusive, and Equitable Living and Creative Environment

Programming

Objectives

- Create a program of activities, training, and events that are mindful, accessible, diversified, and inclusive.

- ⇒ Create and involve diverse and representative committees for each call for proposals;
